Who are we?

Plugsurfing started as a small charging app over a decade ago, but today we're so much more. We've formed hundreds of partnerships within the EV charging industry and recently became part of Fleetcor.

Together, we are building a growing ecosystem, where charge point operators, carmakers and drivers benefit from each other. Discover what we can do for you.

Plugsurfing for drivers

Welcome to the largest public charging network in Europe, with over 850,000+ charge points from over 500 charge point operators across 25 European countries. With the Plugsurfing app, charging on the road is as easy as it is at home.

Plugsurfing for Charge Point Operators

By roaming with us, you'll reach more drivers. There are more than 2 million of them using the Plugsurfing network. In addition, we partner with some of the most iconic car brands and biggest fleets, creating unique opportunities to highlight your charging network.

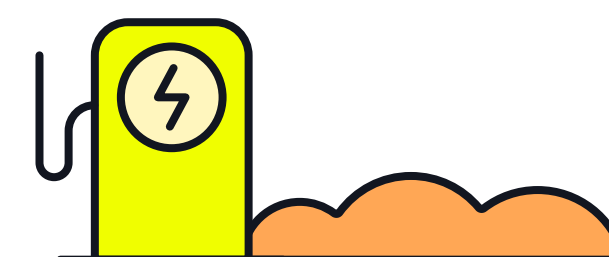

Our network is used extensively. In December 2023, we processed over a million charging sessions, and this continues to trend upward.

Plugsurfing for your customers

Offer your drivers a seamless digital experience for charging and driving and give them access to one of the widest EV charging networks in Europe.

How much you want to customize this access is up to you. You can build your charging experience around a white-label charging app and adjust how it looks and feel.

Alternatively, you can use our developer platform to bring handy charging features to the car's dashboard or your own app.

Bringing back ☁ the carefree drive.
